

CASE FILE

TOP SECRET

MISSION: [REDACTED]

BOOKLIST

Weather (Curious Cats), by Airlie Anderson (0-4). Bold colored kitties and simple concept words lend appeal to the littlest readers. Fiction.

Wolf in the Snow, by Matthew Cordell (4-8). A little girl and a wolf cub she's found get lost in a sudden blizzard before finding their ways home in a nearly wordless, award-winning picture book. Fiction

Sejal Sinha Battles Superstorms (Sejal Sinha #1), by Maya Prasad & Abira Das (6-9). A little girl with a big imagination harnesses it – with some STEM insights – to help save the family's Diwali celebration when a hurricane threatens it. Fiction

Wacky Weather: All About Odd Weather Events (Cat in the Hat's Learning Library), by Todd Tarpley et al. (6-9). The Cat in the Hat (with Thing One and Thing Two) introduces readers to 17 wild global weather occurrences, including fire whirls, sundogs, and waterspouts. Nonfiction

Claudia in the Storm: A Hurricane Katrina Survival Story (Girls Survive), by Denise Walter McConduit & Francesca Ficorilli (7-10). Claudia and her sister are separated from their parents during a helicopter rescue after the levees break. Fiction

Storm Runner (Rick Riordan Presents: Storm Runner Book #1), by JC Cervantes (8-12). A dormant volcano near his New Mexico home opens a whole new world for Zane, whose dad turns out to be one of the Mayan gods he must face. Fiction

Wild Weather: Storms, Meteorology, and Climate (Science Comics), by MK Reed & Jonathan Hill (8+). As a snowpocalypse approaches, a weatherman offers insights on major weather and climate phenomena. Nonfiction.