

Dear Parents,

We're excited to introduce you to Tinkercast podcasts, including Wow in the World, the #1 podcast for curious kids like yours. Spanning topics from science, technology, and innovation to the mysteries of history, they all make you say "WOW!"

Thousands of teachers use our podcasts in the classroom, and now we invite you to tune in together at home! Listening to educational podcasts as a family is a great way to spark curiosity, encourage conversations, and bring learning to life outside the classroom. Plus, 98% of parents say they learn something new from listening too!

Why Parents Love Our Podcasts

- Our "cartoons for the ear" keep kids laughing while learning, because listening to stories actually helps them remember more facts.
- Perfect for car rides, playtime, bedtime, and beyond, listening to podcasts together makes co-listeners feel closer to each other.
- Screen-free entertainment that keeps eyes up, screens down, and jaws dropped activates kids' imagination more than watching videos.
- Bonus activities and conversation starter questions are available to enhance learning.
- Free to listen anytime, anywhere, wherever you get your podcasts.

As our host Mindy always says, we can tell you but we'd rather show you. Listen to this episode about the power of listening together to see for yourself!

Join millions of families who make listening a fun part of their daily routine. Simply scan the QR code or visit tinkercast.com to start listening today!

Happy listening,
Your Friends at Tinkercast

